There exists all over the world a parallel Science, a Science that has evolved through life-experiences rather than through statistical studies. It is empirical in nature and somehow survives even when much of statistically gathered hard data changes. Herein lies the great value of personal experiences with regard to health and healing. Besides, there can be many approaches to the same problem and it is hard to say which one will work best for a particular person or in a given situation. The human body and its responses are not mathematical but change, adapt and evolve. That is how one has to look at this interesting report below. The treatment described below has given relief to very many people. One thing is certain too, there is much more about health and healing than is found in our standard textbooks of medicine.

Once again , I thank you for making me a member of your family.

Further, I would like to inform that my profile has been published in Hindu newspaper of Andhra Pradesh under the heading (RESPIRATORY RELIEF) in the year 2010. It was a beginning stage.

From then on wards, no publication in any newspaper. If possible , I request you to recommend to Hindu newspaper or any other for publication of my profile on your behalf or else to take up yourself.
