

Speed Failure or Blockage of the Body Energy C Circuit

Raja Tounsi***

Research Department, Gravity-G, Tunisia

*Corresponding Author: Raja Tounsi, Research Department, Gravity-G, Tunisia.

Received: March 08, 2019; Published: March 19, 2019

Introduction

The electromagnetic molecular mass of the atmospheric energy reacts directly on the muscular system which tones the body's field and its contact with the magnetic field of the soil. The molecular mass of the planetary elements reacts directly on the blood system with interference of the electromagnetic field of the interplanetary resistance related to the enigmatic network of Saturn and Jupiter at the bottom of the simple chemical equation composed of two essential agents which are oxygen and carbon. Oxygen plays the role of polyvalence between the cells constituting the neurons and traces itself on a symmetrical trajectory to the field of homogeneous mixing of the molecules of hydrogen in the atmosphere. A homogeneous and simple set to replace the body energy formula. The human body includes 1 billion 69,000 nerves. The blood circuit circulates at a suitable speed to 120,000,000 AL making a regular crossing. The nerves are enveloped by a very fine texture while varying the temperature of the blood by stabilizing it and protecting the blood against the radiation of toxins.

Causes

Cancer takes place when there is a failure or blockage in the Body energy C circuit which It is an impulsive energy that allows the elimination of any toxic body accessing the envelopment of neurons that are made of a very thin but very strong connective and protective tissue acting on the lymph. Its texture is formed from chromosomes very rich in proteins and iron, it mainly participates in the constitution of embryonic cells, this element projects rays that act directly on the gray matter fighting in this way any radioactivity or viral infection in the body for this reason, in the event of failure, a malfunction occurs which in turn causes the elimination of the agent, so a substantial imbalance in the bones appears. Cancer is caused by a viral cell. The ionic components of this cell are on a very regular field and absorb the substantial energy of the body based on the iron agent which is formed from bulbs in the form of resistant gas in the walls of the blood vessels it is because of this agent that the oxygenation of the organism is activated: The bulbs of the cell cause a dilation at the level of the molecules and an explosion of the protective radioactive ions which causes a viral contamination.

Its active effect level of the body will not allow any jolt of the defensive cells at the level of the organism that is why the radioactive uranium reacts directly on the gray matter and its detection will be positive only if the organism is impoverished in iron, the agent acts on the heart and cell rhythm and goes up to the radiation of the neurons. In a parallel position, uranium reveals itself at the bone level and destroys the resistance of the cells while causing dilation in the atoms forming the bone tissues. The blood feeds from this wall which projects a viscous substance feeding on the alimentary substances of the lymphatic circuit which serves as a stream containing the elements necessary for the organism and the toxins released by the blood.

The excess of carbon attributes to an immune weakness at the level of the antibodies and subsequently at the level of the nervous system which becomes compressed by the continuous influx of the arterial pressure. The ions of this cell are made on a very regular field and absorbing the body energy, based on the iron agent which is formed from bulbs in the form of gas residing in the walls of the blood vessels, the oxygenation of the body is activated: A radical operation to the survival of toxins that will have been spreading at the level of the body to be released at the level of the faecal matter. Cancer intensifies in the absence of the iron agent at the level of the organism therefore deliberates a failure in the gray matter. The authenticity of this formula deteriorates the radioactivity of red blood cells which increases by the chemical reaction of any chemical and atomic agent. The failure at the organic level at the starting point of a Cancer is localized at the level of the respiratory organs.

Conclusion

Oxygen is the only agent that allows the destruction of toxic waste. The medical remedy must be based on natural agents. The destruction of the cell itself must be fixed on a remedy that reacts on directly on the lymph and spreads to the gray matter. Its active effect at the level of the organism will not allow any shaking of the defensive cells at the level of the organism and reacts directly on the gray matter and its detection will only be positive only if the body is really impoverished in iron, the agent acts on the heart and cell rhythm and goes up to the neurons. Body energy fails as soon as the toxins roll up carbon, which weakens the activity of the oxygen agent, which leads to an imbalance in the iron rate in the body. The cell multiplication is well organized and is constantly done as long as this energy is operational at the level of this nerve. Failure occurs laterally with increasing blood velocity at each uncontrolled pulse. The organic dysfunction takes place as well as the total stopping of certain organs. Energy C deficit causes a counter balance and goes as far as destroying the bone balance by eliminating the magnetic energy of the human body.

Volume 3 Issue 4 April 2019

© All rights are reserved by Raja Tounsi.